

David Kenny
Manager of Accident Analysis
AOPA Air Safety Institute

David Jack Kenny has been a statistician since 1989, a pilot since 2001, and Manager of Aviation Safety Analysis for AOPA's Air Safety Institute since 2008. He holds a fixed-wing ATP certificate with private pilot privileges for helicopters and owns a 180-horsepower Piper Arrow which he flies primarily as a volunteer for Pilots N Paws and various public outreach events, including Learn-to-Fly Day and Women Fly It Forward. As of this morning, he's logged about 1,850 hours in airplanes and 80 in helicopters.